HAPPY FISHING - See you at the meeting

A Message from the President

By Mike Hartt

I had all the intentions of my January message being upbeat and talking about all of our 2019 events and club functions. Teri and I were in Hawaii last week when I received a call from Steve Simon informing me that Earl Warren had passed away. Earl was an amazing guy and friend that the club will miss dearly. I will not forget the time when I introduced him to my wife Teri and he pushed me aside, and said to Teri, "do you know your grandfather (Dave Lippey) was a legend in the fishing business". Well, let me say, there's another legend, and that was Earl. His contributions to the industry and to the club will be remembered for many years to come. I spoke to his wife, Pam, the other day and told her I plan to propose a new "Earl Warren Memorial Award" for 2019.

Invites will be going out for our annual banquet in the next few weeks, so please hold Sunday February 24th open. Let's make this year's banquet a great event.

We have about five slots still available for our club five day tuna trip on the Red Rooster leaving on September 3rd. Larry Brown and I are co-sponsoring this trip with half the slots reserved for LARRC, and raffle profits going to the club. I will bring a case of fine wine!

Happy New Year to all and I look forward to seeing everyone at our January meeting.

Thoughts of Earl Warren

Earl W. Warren was one of those larger than life individuals. I was honored to be able to call him a friend.

An attorney for 50 years, he was in the process of winding down his practice when he went to argue the great appeal in the sky. He was a contrarian, perfectly suited to the legal world where he could not only pursue his passion of arguing with people, but get paid for it. In the early pre-modern technology days, his telex was NOT RELATED (he did not want to be confused with another famous attorney who shared the same name). One of his email handles was Blackcloud.

The last time I saw Earl in person was at the joint meeting of the LARRC Board of Directors and Foundation Trustees. Earl seemed to take great delight in questioning me about the status of a search in progress, for which he had been fully briefed the day before by telephone.

Earl was both a Past President (1970) of the Club and more recently, a past Foundation chairman. Earl was one of my unofficial advisors in my current capacity as Foundation chair and as attorneys we were often the ad hoc committee chosen to address various club related matters. Earl had a passion for the Club and was an energetic booster to the end.

Earl and Pamela spent more than 10 years in Costa Rica. Earl served as the general counsel and manager for a resort and marina that is listed on many of the world's finest lists. He enjoyed the challenges of helping to guide the transformation of a cattle ranch into a destination location.

In Costa Rica, Earl and Pamela were charming and gracious hosts. Earl was a raconteur, with stories about everyone and everything. While in Costa Rica, when Earl, Pamela and I went out to dinner, we would always have a wonderful table, a stream of visitors, and frequently the owner or chef would come out to give us special information.

On one visit, Bob Selvin, Earl and I were at the resort restaurant, enjoying a spectacular meal of fish we had earlier caught. Earl's boss happened to be in the restaurant, and we heard the story of how a decision to explore a particular bay with a cattle ranch, while on a private boat owned by another club member, resulted in a decade long adventure that became the resort. (Somewhere in Chumline archives is a picture of five past LARRC presidents on that trip: Earl, Pamela, Brad Stich, Bob Selvin and myself)

One of my great fishing trips was a week I spent in Costa Rica with Earl. Earl had arranged for charters with what he considered the three best captains and boats in the area. They did not disappoint, even in the face of challenging conditions. In addition to the usual plethora of sailfish, we went after the less frequently targeted species, including roosterfish and my first pargo. Earl of course spent the rest of the trip reminding me that his pargo was larger.

Earl was fishing to the end, even taking a trip this past summer, although he could barely hold the rod. He was in the process of winding down his 50-year legal practice. He lived life to the fullest, on his terms. Fare thee well, my friend.

~Chas Schoemaker

Earl Warren

Earl was one of the first members I met when I joined the club in 2010. Honestly, he was very intimidating initially. He had a big personality and was very passionate when he spoke to you about fishing and the club. As I got to know him over the years, I realized how much he truly cares about sport fishing, the Club and us, his fellow members. He approached me several times about volunteering for this or that, but I learned I had to be straightforward with my answers to him. Otherwise he would talk me in to it and I wouldn't even realize it. To which I thank him for making me more involved.

Thank you Earl for being you and all you have done. We will miss you.

Sending love and hugs to Pamela and your family.

~Sophia Huynh

Earl Warren

Earl was just a nice human being... a friend to all.

He was a great sportsman, who is not just a "good fisherman ", but instead, always a true sportsman, who made sure his old friends and his new acquaintances alike, was welcome there to enjoy the sport and enjoy the moments that were created. He always made sure we all felt a part of his life and what parts were treasured. He always made you feel invited to the game.....invited to his passion....and most of all welcome to fish with him.

Earl ...I will miss you... the world was a better place with you in it..and I am a better person for knowing you...as I know all the people you have touched feel the same...

Tight lines and fair seasyou will surely be missed

~Brett Goldberg

Earl Warren

There are very few members of the Los Angeles Rod and Reel Club that have given so much to our club and to our fishing industry as Earl Warren. He had a deep love for our club and for sport fishing.

Earl served as President of the Los Angeles Rod and Reel Club in 1970. At that time, he was the youngest person to ever serve as President of our club. At a time when the LARRC consisted primarily of the "good old boys", Earl was one of the "good young boys" and commanded great respect and leadership by our club. Since his presidency, he has continued to give to our club, including serving as Foundation Chairman, Board Member, Chairman of many committees, and participating and giving a hand to so many club events. He was always willing to give assistance.

Earl is one of the very few people (along with his wife Pam) who are members of the IGFA Billfish Grand Slam Club- having caught an Atlantic Blue Marlin, Pacific Blue Marlin, Black Marlin, White Marlin, Striped Marlin, Atlantic Sailfish, Pacific Sailfish, Swordfish and Spearfish.

Earl moved down to Costa Rica to establish and operate the marina in Los Sueños Resort, which has become one of the premier fishing destinations in the world. He loved to invite the members of our Club, and other friends, to Costa Rica for an unforgettable fishing experience.

Earl was beloved and very well known to many of the most prominent leaders in the fishing industry. He also represented many of these leaders in their legal battles. Earl was responsible for changing one of the most important rules for sport fishing in California. Namely, for many years, fisherman were required to fillet their catch at the dock so that the Fish and Game would be able to measure the size of the fish to make sure the catch was legal. As a result of Earl's efforts, we are now allowed to fillet our catch at sea (and Fish and Game measures the fillets with a patch of the skin to make sure the catch was legal).

Earl loved to fish and he loved to compete in our Club tournaments. He won our annual King of the Club tournament more than anyone in our Club – and he took tremendous pride and joy to have won each and every one of those tournaments.

Like many of us, Earl loved to fish, but perhaps above all, he loved fishermen and the comradery among fishermen.

The Los Angeles Rod and Reel Club owe a great debt to Earl's efforts. He will be greatly missed.

Tight Lines Earl –may you rest in peace.

Kids' Fishing Clinic

By Marc Monforte

Members of the LARRC once again participated with the annual Kid's Fishing Clinic, which took place on December 8th., at the Irvine Regional Park. The LARRC provided rods, reels and terminal tackle to the many participants that didn't have their own to use. The well-attended event was coordinated by Orange County Parks, and co-sponsored by various companies, in addition to the on-site presence and assistance of LARRC members, including Emilio Rebollar who was actively involved with the events logistics. The day/clinic was a great success, in that so many of the kid's caught their limit of Tennessee Tail Walking Trout that were stocked in the lake just a day earlier. All the frisky trout were of nice size, with plenty of two and three pounders to go around, which excited the kids and adults alike! Although it was "kid's fishing only" from 6:00 am to 11:00 am, the attending adults were also able to join in on the fun and enjoy the ease of catching the farm-raised trout, after the kid's clinic officially ended that is!!

Thank you to Marc Monforte for taking photos and submitting the article!

SAVE THE DATE

The LARRC Annual Family Picnic is scheduled to take place Sunday, June 2nd next to the shores of beautiful Lake Sherwood, from 11 am to 4 pm. Lake Sherwood is a private lake with excellent populations of largemouth bass and (easy to catch) large bluegills. Last year the temperatures were cool and the bass cooperative, as these pictures of Mark and Shari Manculich from the 2018 picnic attest.

The Club provides all the gear for kids and adults to fish the shoreline and adjacent docks. This is a great opportunity to spend a relaxing afternoon with your family in a beautiful setting, enjoy good food, and fish with your kids or pals. There is a large grassy area next to the picnic grounds suitable for playing catch, kicking a soccer ball, or flying a kite.

ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

Submitted by Eric Rogger

The format of this month's report is going to be somewhat different. It seems to be the right time to wish everyone a Happy New Year and a pleasant Holiday Season! Have some great fishing adventures and be well. And please take this message to heart!

Of course LARRC is not an environmental organization. We leave this to organizations such as ASA (American Sportfishing Assn), Wild Oceans, CCA (Coastal Conservation Assn), and others.

As a long time fisherman, club member, and vociferous reader of marine oriented materials I feel the following should be of interest – particularly if you want to continue fishing and expect your kids to have the same experiences. Read On!!!

The function of fishing clubs is to facilitate the participation in our favorite pastime – fishing!! Making friends and enjoying the outdoors are byproducts. In order for this to continue we should show more interest in our fishing environments. And of course our fishing environments are closely aligned to climate!

Let us consider this: :Symptomatic of what is happening to our climate let me cite some examples...Seawalls in Miami have been broached by higher seas. Sea ice melting has swamped a number of areas on the Alaskan coast. Churchill, Manitoba – on Hudson Bay, has been inundated. Vast areas of some Asian countries' shoreslines have had to be evacuated due to rising seas. (Viet Nam) The one that really hit home for me was a report of Balboa Island's beaches – in Orange County – being swamped and their seawalls lashed and remedies calling for their heightening.

Carbon Dioxide released by fossil fuel combustion has been found to be a major contributor to warming of the planet. A UN conference was held in December in Poland... They came to the conclusion that we are moving too slowly. Closer to home it was distressing to read about 9 million acres in Western States being opened to oil and gas drilling. Reports show our sea temperatures are still rising! A major impact on the future of fishing?

So what is my message? Become engaged if you are not already! We need more support for CCA – Wild Oceans – ASA. Write your legislators ...More people need to be involved!! Comments will be welcome...

◆ AND NOW FOR THE GOOD NEWS

Gov. Brown, prior to leaving office, signed a bill ending the use of Gill Nets. The State is literally buying the nets so they don't get used elsewhere. Deep buoy nets are supposedly the answer.

The bill to eliminate lead sinkers did not pass. It is now "under study".

A report in Pacific Coast Sportfishing indicates progress with the ORHP hatchery program for White Sea Bass. It also notes that halibut will be added to the hatchery program with CCA helping to catch the brood stocks.

CCA was also credited with helping to raise funds for tagging programs.

Finally... We've reported on the Great Pacific Garbage Patch before. It contains at least 80,000 tons of plastic. A company called Bureo is recycling these plastics in facilities in California and Chile creating skateboards, sunglasses etc. from this debris.

YOUR COMMENTS AND WRITTEN CONTRIBUTIONS WILL BE WELCOME...

FIRST EVER LEGISLATION DEALING WITH SPORTFISHING REACHES THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

This article, referred to LARRC by member Larry Brown, reached us in late December. It should be of great interest to all interested in the future of saltwater sportfishing. Thanks Larry for calling this to our attention.

Saltwater anglers number about 11 million and have an economic impact quoted at $63 billion. About $1.3 billion in taxes and licensing annual fees will help conservation efforts, boat safety and habitat preservation.

This is the first sportfishing oriented legislation to pass Congress and has now been sent to the President for his signature. The bill S1520 was passed by the Senate 12/17/18 and then by the House 12/19/18. It is called the "Modern Fish Act". NOAA should now have the tools via the various Federal Agencies to harvest data, issue reporting requirements and have NMS to study these and make recommendations. They have been given two years for their assessments and include effects on communities, businesses and the environment.

Senator Roger Wicker, Congressman Garret Graves, among others, should be thanked for their efforts to have recreational fishing to be recognized under federal law.

A coalition of groups supported the Modern Fish Act. These included the American Sportfishing Assn., Center for Sportfishing Policy, Coastal Conservation Assn., Congressional Sportsmen's Fdn., Guy Harvery Ocean Foundation, International Game Fish Assn., National Marine Manufacturers Assn., Recreational Fishing Alliance, The Billfish Foundation and the Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership.

As part of the Saltwater Fishing Community LARRC looks forward to having this bill enacted after the signing of The Modern Fish Act by the President.

POST SCRIPT!

We have just learned that the MODERN FISH ACT BILL (S.1520 - H 350-11) which passed both House & Senate votes was signed into law on Dec. 31st by the President.

La Bocana Trip with Baja Fishing Convoys and Orchid Martínez-Guevara

By Donald Goldsobel

Orchid Martínez-Guevara, of Baja Fishing Convoys has put together a trip for us. She asked me to be the para Charter Master and I accepted. Lets make this trip happen!

Dates: October 17-22, 2019
(6-Day trip with 4 days of fishing)

Cost $2095 per person. Includes 4 days of fishing 7AM - 3PM. Lodging in beachfront cabins. Daily continental breakfast, boat lunch. Dinner is not included. This is so Orchid can keep the cost that same with the new flight out of Tijuana. The restaurant has a good and varied menu. They will cook your fish. Last time I was there they made the most fabulous ceviche, fish tacos, lobster, shrimp dinners and great beers. They run a tab for each person. Very reasonable and they have a large variety of food on the menu.

Fish processing is additional. $2 per pound finished product vacuum-sealed and frozen.

Transportation: We fly out of Tijuana Airport. Park on the U.S. side, walk over the pedestrian (CBX) bridge (there is a fee) and check-in. Orchid can assist us in purchasing those passes ahead of time so we don't wait in line. We fly to Guerrero Negro and are driven to La Bocana. For those of you who went to Cedros last year, the trip is on the same plane as the one we took to Cedros. Seats 13 passengers. Our group will be a group of 12. Orchid will accompany us. The drive to La Bocana is about 2.5 hours. This has improved from last year's drive time of 7 hours each way. And not to forget, this new flight out of Tijuana will require NO driving across the border on the way back!

Baggage: Allowance of 3 rods at no additional fee. Weight limit going is 50 pounds free. Returning same basic limit with an allowance of up to a total 70 pounds. Anything over 50 is an additional charge. Pack light.

La Bocana is a co-operative fishing community on the Pacific side of the Baja Peninsula. It is an area frequently fished by the San Diego long-range boats. They have in-shore and offshore fishing. Estuary fishing is also available for those that enjoy fly-fishing or fishing for smaller species. There are Gulf and Broom Tail Grouper. Great fish. (Grouper limit is one per boat per day per panga) Other fish to catch are wahoo, tuna, dorado, yellowtail, sierra, bonito, sheeps head, white sea bass, black sea bass, silver corvina, spotties, triggerfish, even bottom fish! Calico fishing here is among the best there is in the Baja Peninsula! Some guys have been known to catch over 18 different species at La Bocana.

Orchid will be the speaker at the March general meeting. She will tell you all about it.

I am taking paid reservations now. This trip will remain open for Club members only until the summer. If you have question, you can call or text me at (818) 970-4578.

FISHING TRIP OPPORTUNITIES

ALASKA HERE WE COME!

THE LAST CHUMLINE HAD AN INVITING NUMBER OF CHARTERS LISTED BUT HERE WE GO WITH SOMETHING REALLY OUTSTANDING!

During the 2018 season six club members traveled to Sitka for a three day fishing adventure. Dave Levinson and I met last week to discuss future plans. We were part of the six member group who had been to Wild Strawberry Lodge before. What made the decision to go again easy is the great service we experienced plus the 40 lb boxes of fish filets we unloaded at Burbank Airport.

We had a great trip! Expect to be picked up at the Sitka airport and limo'd to the lodge conveniently found within a brief walk to the boat. No float plane connection needed. We found the family style eating to be great – with lunch served on the boat. The 30' aluminum boats, we have again chosen the "JACKPOT" to be our vessel because of the very satisfactory crew and a head. Tackle and foul weather gear are furnished and fish filleting is included. The scenery will be spectacular!

Alaska Airlines has non-stops from Burbank, with a connecting flight to Sitka. No more details now...The "buddy" price for our June 22 arrival is $2695. For additional information you can call either Dave or me. Additional details are also available by contacting: Wild Strawberry Lodge. Toll Free (800)770-2628 or email www.wildstrawberry-lodge.com Tell them you are part of the LARRC contingent..

Hope to see you there:

CALLING ALL COOKS A Wonderful Mushroom Pate'

I got this recipe from Hugh Carpenter when I attended his cooking class in Napa. It has just a few ingredients, some of them are flexible.

Use butter, margarine or oil

Use oyster sauce, regular or vegan...the vegan is made with mushrooms instead of oysters or any soy. If its is real dark, use less

Any hot sauce will do. It is not tasted as heat, it beefs up the flavor. Use fresh or jarred garlic.

For the mushrooms, I use white button, stems and all, plus some reconstituted dried shitake mushrooms. If they have stems remove them. I soak them in hot water till plump, slice and de-stem. The stems are woody.

Mushroom Pate

Use any kind of mushroom. Dried mushrooms give the best flavor. I use white button, crimini (brown) and shitake.

½ ounce dried cepes, shitake or porcini mushrooms
I have used any variety of dried mushrooms and the difference is indiscernible

1-pound fresh firm textured mushrooms

¼ cup unsalted butter

4 cloves garlic, finely minced Microplane or garlic press is fine
2 tablespoons oyster sauce or thin soy sauce (I prefer Oyster sauce -vegetarian)

½ teaspoon of your favorite hot sauce (Chalula - my favorite)

½ teaspoon sugar

6 ounces cream cheese (I use half goat cheese and half low fat cream cheese)

1/4 cup chopped chives, parsley, or cilantro sprigs

Crackers or thinly sliced baguette of bread

Cover dried mushrooms with 1 cup boiling water. After 30 minutes, pour the liquid through a fine meshed strainer, and save. Discard any tough stems from the fresh mushrooms. Thinly slice fresh mushrooms. Place a 12-inch sauté pan over high heat. Add the butter, and when it begins to brown, add the softened dried mushrooms, fresh mushrooms, and garlic. Sauté until the mushrooms begin to wilt, about 5 minutes. Add the dried mushroom's water, oyster sauce, hot sauce, and sugar.

Cook over high heat until all the moisture disappears, about 5 minutes. Transfer 2/3 of the mushrooms to a food processor. When cooled to room temperature, puree. Add the cream cheese, goat cheese cut into little pieces, and puree. Now add the remaining mushrooms and pulse to chop. This will give it texture and takes away the pasty mouth feel. You may want to save a few perfect slices to use whole as decoration. Transfer to a 5 to 7-inch diameter spring form pan, or a bowl, lined with cooking parchment paper or plastic wrap, I use the plastic wrap. Refrigerate. Can be completed to this point.

There are never any leftovers.
