Tracer Trip to Clemente Scores an Awesome Variety of Fish by Phil Bell

When Bob Selvin announced an opening on the late May, two-day Tracer charter, at the April LARRC dinner, I signed up as fast as I could write my check. I had fished on the Tracer with Captain Steve last year on a one-day, and was very impressed with the boat and crew.

Both limited the charter to ten players including Royal MacNair, Mike Godfrey, Stan Snyder, Brad Stich, John Ballotti, Warren Hoberman (Hobie), John Turner, Scott Cohen, and myself, Phil Bell. After signing in, Bob informed us there would be four jackpots—biggest fish overall, then biggest calico, white seabass and yellowtail.

We left Pierpoint at 10:30 pm and arrived at the backside of San Clemente Island at 3:30 am with the Tracer's new diesel engines in very calm seas. Royal

Paul Varenchik's June Message

I do believe that spring is finally here. I have never seen a windier and colder beginning of the year, as long as I can remember. I haven't had a chance to do much fishing yet this year, but am gearing up for the 7 day Q-105 trip—first week of June—along with my youngest son, Jonny. Last years' trip, saw my older son Troy, nail a 49-lb yellowtail in the weeds at Cedros, needless to say I was a proud father!

With my children getting older, I definitely look forward to the club trips I take with them.

Speaking of kids, the Club's next big event will be the Kids' Trip, on Monday, July 7th and volunteers are still needed for deckhand duties. Please sign up for our most important event of the year. Larry Brown is handling the volunteer signups. He urges all of us to speak up NOW.

Contact Larry at 310/578-2288 or email him at lmbrownxx@earthlink.net. Calm Seas & Tight Lines —Paul! ■

Phillip recently organized the largest Sport-Fishing rally ever assembled in California. With only five days to plan for the event in November 2002, over 200 boats and thousands of anglers showed up in San Pedro CA to protest recent fishing closures. Phillip grew up working as a deckhand on open party boats in Southern California and skippered the commercial fishing vessel Thunderfish. ■ and I were up early and the only ones fishing at 4 am, in the dark, with Captain Joel of the Relentless who was on night watch. We had live squid, but Royal wanted to snag some sardines and small mackerel to expand our bait selection.

After fishing live squid for a while on a dropper loop, I switched to a sardine and immediately hooked up, and I mean hooked up. The fish took me around the boat and spooled 2/3 of my line. An hour later Captain Joel suggested I try handlining the fish because it had picked up a bunch of kelp stringers and I was making little progress reeling in the fish. A moment after Joel started handlining, the fish broke off. I guess it was a large bat ray or shark, but who knows. Bob dubbed it the mystery monster that got away.

By 5:30 am, almost all the anglers were up and fishing for the elusive whites or yellowtail. We caught a variety of fish including calico bass, sheephead, and barracuda. We also caught DFG throwbacks including Johnny bass, whitefish, sculpin and rockfish.

Captain Steve tried several other spots heading eastward up the island. Brad caught a nice halibut, Scott—new LARRC member—caught a small white seabass, and someone else got a small yellowtail. Late in the afternoon the conditions were perfect and we had a great calico bite. I caught my largest calico ever, a 6-lb. beauty and thought I had won the C.B. jackpot. Forget about it! An hour later Hobie pulled in a 6-lb, 10-oz monster, a definite contender for this year's 15-lb calico category. Bob, John B, Mike, Royal and John N. caught lots of calicos on plastics, sliding sinkers, and lead heads (especially Bob's painted pink variety)

That evening we had a delicious steak and fresh fish dinner prepared by Chef Matt. Mike G. provided the wine (a premium merlot) and we had New

LARRC jackpot winners

Scott with halibut and seabass.

York cheesecake for dessert. We anchored at Seal Cove for the night.

The next morning, Captain Steve wanted to try a couple of halibut drifts. Brad hooked up the first 'but again and then we had an amazing halibut bite. John B., Royal, Hobie, Stan and myself all caught nice size fish from 8-17 lbs. Then Scott hooked a huge "but" that topped the scale at 28 lbs. We chased yellowtail and seabass the rest of the morning but had no luck. Later we heard that none of the sportboats had a good day on the yellows and white seabass. We made it back to Pierpoint in little over five hours at 6:30 pm. Kudos to chartermaster Bob Selvin, Capt. Steve, the Tracer crew, and all the LARRC anglers for a great trip with an awesome variety of fish. I am definitely signing up for next year.■

ANNUAL "KING OF THE CALICOS" TOURNAMENT

One of LARRC's most fun trips, the annual Bill Alpert Memorial "King of the Calicos" catch and release tournament has been set for departure on Monday night, July 7 at 9 pm from Pierpont Landing on the boat Aztec. This date was meant to specifically coincide with LARRC's Annual Kids' Trip so that the players fishing in the tournament would not have to make another separate roundtrip to Long Beach on another day. In addition, Captain Curt Wegner indicated this is absolutely prime time for calico bass fishing at San Clemente Island.

At the time of this writing, there are five teams signed up with a couple of others expected to join in. There is room for nine teams for a total of 18 players. Right now, the teams are (1) Bob Selvin and Paul Varenchik; (2) Tom Carlisle and Al Scow; (3) Phil Bell and Sam Rubinfeld; (4) Brad Stich and John Ballotti; (5) Dave Levinson and Steve Simon.

The cost is $155 and includes $100 cash jackpots each for the winning team, $80 for biggest calico and $80 for individual top weight for fish caught. This also includes crew tip, but food is extra. Volunteer judges will be Dan "My-hand is-always-out" Fink and calico bass expert John Turner.

If any of you are interested in teaming up, please contact Bob Selvin (310)474-4143 or at rkstbred@aol.com. Checks should be made payable to LARRC and sent to Bob at his address in the club year-book. Bob will attempt to setup a pre-tournament dinner for interested participants after the Kids' Trip is over at a nearby restaurant while the Aztec is being cleaned and readied for departure.■

Patagonian Catch of a Lifetime....

New Zealand Fishermen while hunting for Patagonian Toothfish in Antarctica's Ross Sea caught 330-lb. 16ft. colossal squid. "They were hauling in the fish, and they saw this giant thing attacking their catch, so they gaffed it and dragged it on board," said Steve O'Shea, a marine biologist who examined the squid. Only the second of its kind ever caught, the creature has giant tentacles with enormous tooth-like hooks and the largest eyes – they're the size of dinner plates – of any animal.

The fishermen gave the female specimen to the Te Papa national museum in New Zealand for research. "This is a killer squid" said O'Shea. "From a science point of view, it's absolutely priceless."

JUNE FINANCIAL ADVICE

In the current economic climate it is wise to follow certain investment guidelines. These were sent to Chum Line by a member who chose to remain anonymous but wanted to share this advice with other LARRC members.

VALUE INVESTING: The art of buying low and selling lower
P/E RATIO: The percentage of investors wetting their pants as the market keeps crashing

BROKER: What my broker has made me

STANDARD & POOR: Your life in a nutshell

STOCK ANALYST: Idiot who just downgraded your stock

STOCK SPLIT: When your ex-husband and his lawyer split your assets equally between themselves

FINANCIAL PLANNER: A guy whose phone has been disconnected

MARKET CORRECTION: That which occurs the day after you buy stocks

CASH FLOW: The movement your money makes as it disappears down the toilet

YAHOO: What you yell after selling it to some sucker for $240 a share

WINDOWS 2000: What you jump out of when you are the sucker who bought Yahoo @$240 per share.

INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR: Past year investor who is now locked up in a nut house.

PROFIT: An archaic word no longer in use.

RFA Introduces the F2F in California

While the lawsuit concerning the Channel Islands closures is working its way through the system, no court date has as yet been set, RFA introduced the Freedom to Fish Act in the California legislature, early this session. To our regret this piece of legislation never got out of committee. Club members should know that the following legislators, three from So.Ca. voted against it. State Senators: Sheila Kuehl, Debra Bowen, Byron Sher, Dede Alpert and Tom Torlakson. The freedom to fish act would have required the DFG to prove that recreational fishing was responsible for depletion of certain species before closing any area to sport fishing.

We have not yet heard how this bill introduced in other coastal states has fared. These are New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, Washington. Also, RFA hopes to make a national f2F act part of the Magnuson-Stevens reauthorization. Stay tuned!!

A RECORD TO NOTE

The IGFA Reports on a tuna catch out of Cape Lookout Shoals, North Carolina, in February, when Alan Elenson of Miami Beach, caught a 248 lb. bluefin on 20 lb. line. Elenson brought the fight to a close in just 40 minutes.

Make Mine Rare

The Seamen's Institute of New York has added Norwegian whale meat cutlets to its daily menu. Introduced in 1951, they have met with wide acceptance in the finest restaurants. Surveys peg the potential US market for whale meat at 10 million pounds. Supply, not demand is said to be the problem. A whale steak large enough to feed three people retails for 85-90 cents. "It compares favorably with beef tenderloin," according to the Maine Coast Fisherman.

ISLAND TAK SCORES White Sea Bass

The water was rough but the fishing great on the Island Tak out of Cisco's Landing in Oxnard. LA Rod & Reel Club guys limited out (1 WSB per angler) on the giant croaker while fishing Anacapa Island at the end of April. This trip was organized by Chartermaster Mike Grossman and limited to eight anglers. Phil Bell, who signed on at the last minute because of a cancellation, won the WSB jackpot with 27.9-lb fish. He caught the croaker on 25-lb. test using a Pro-Gear reel and Kencor rod.

Group on the Island Tak

Skipper Steve Kelly metered the fish around 7 am in very rough water near Arch Rock about an hour after anchoring near the island. Soon afterward Captain Steve yelled, "Fish on the meter.", and half the guys were busy as their rods went bendo and their reels worked overtime. Within an hour everyone had caught a fish. Deckhands Johnny and Steve did a great job on the gaff and didn't lose a single fish.

I was very impressed with Captain Steve's uncanny ability to find fish in extremely adverse conditions and his patience at waiting until the fish showed on the meter. The fishermen also deserve kudos for hanging in and hanging on with good humor until the fish bit.

A short time later we fished for Mike Godfrey with white sea bass.

calicos in somewhat calmer water. Dirk Perriseau caught a 3-lb-plus fish to win the calico jackpot but the fishing was scratchy at best. Because of the rough conditions, the group decided to call it a day early and we were back at the dock by 12 noon. Just another great day on the Island Tak.

FORUM STUDIES SOLUTIONS TO STOP LONGLINE BY CATCH

Longline fishermen, biologists and environmentalists from all over the world gathered at Honolulu in November at the Second International Fishers Forum. Forum attendees convened to discuss ways of preventing seabird and sea turtle bycatch.

There are 18,000 longline boats, including 120 Hawaii longline vessels, fishing the Pacific Ocean. Nearly 2800 longline vessels fish in the Atlantic and there are 200 fishing the Antarctic and another 200 in the Indian Ocean. Bycatch regulations have threatened fisheries world wide and nearly closed longline fishing in Hawaii in 2000.

Bycatch solutions suggested were weighted fishing lines which sink the line below access to seabirds, also shown was the ARC Dehooker. It is meant to remove hooks from sea birds and turtles without taking them out of the water. The goal of the Western Pacific Fishery Council (WPMC) was to find solutions to the problems of longline bycatch. Conference attendees passed a resolution for an international plan of action to reduce the number of seabirds and sea turtles accidentally caught by longliners.
